Texas Fertilizer Plant Fell Through Cracks of Regulatory Oversight

It is unclear how much ammonium nitrate, the chemical linked to last week's deadly blast, was being stored at the plant, illustrating the patchwork regulatory world in which it operated.

They're trying to change history—don't let them. In the chaotic atmosphere of 2020, the Wayback Machine is a crucial resource in the fight against disinformation, and now more than ever we need your help. Right now we're preserving history as it unfolds, keeping track of who's saying what and when—all without charging for access, selling user data, or running ads. Instead, we rely on the generosity of individuals to help us keep the record straight.

Right now, the Internet Archive (which runs this project) has a 2-to-1 Matching Gift Campaign, tripling the impact of every donation. If you find our public record useful, please chip in.

They're trying to change history—don't let them. In the chaotic atmosphere of 2020, the Wayback Machine is a crucial resource in the fight against disinformation, and now more than ever we need your help. Right now we're preserving history as it unfolds, keeping track of who's saying what and when—all without charging for access, selling user data, or running ads. Instead, we rely on the generosity of individuals to help us keep the record straight.

Right now, the Internet Archive (which runs this project) has a 2-to-1 Matching Gift Campaign, tripling the impact of every donation. If you find our public record useful, please chip in.

They're trying to change history—don't let them. In the chaotic atmosphere of 2020, the Wayback Machine is a crucial resource in the fight against disinformation, and now more than ever we need your help. Right now we're preserving history as it unfolds, keeping track of who's saying what and when—all without charging for access, selling user data, or running ads. Instead, we rely on the generosity of individuals to help us keep the record straight.

Right now, the Internet Archive (which runs this project) has a 2-to-1 Matching Gift Campaign, tripling the impact of every donation. If you find our public record useful, please chip in.

They're trying to change history—don't let them. In the chaotic atmosphere of 2020, the Wayback Machine is a crucial resource in the fight against disinformation, and now more than ever we need your help. Right now we're preserving history as it unfolds, keeping track of who's saying what and when—all without charging for access, selling user data, or running ads. Instead, we rely on the generosity of individuals to help us keep the record straight.

Right now, the Internet Archive (which runs this project) has a 2-to-1 Matching Gift Campaign, tripling the impact of every donation. If you find our public record useful, please chip in.

@KinKortoboBimur @neeratanden you may not be as attuned to the problems with the "poor parents are fuck ups but think of the kids" line

Matt Bruenig @MattBruenig · 7 avr.
@KinKortoboBimur @neeratanden On top of that she's also suggesting the pain of the poor parent is not really the issue!

Neera Tanden neeratanden · 17 May 2015
@MattMackowiak I'm sorry, I missed time Obama launched a war w Iraq that took out gov't & replaced it w/ people who became pawns of Iran.

Matt Mackowiak MattMackowiak · 17 May 2015
@neeratanden Obama isn't responsible for starting Iraq War. But he was responsible for ending it responsibly. He failed & ISIS filled void.

I don't think it's fair that we create our own domestic problems and then ask other nations to pay for it.

You see the adverse incentive problem here right? If we think we can make money off an incursion, we'll do it? that's a serious policy/messaging/moral problem for our foreign policy I think

We have a giant deficit. They have a lot of oil. Most Americans would choose not to engage in the world because of that deficit. If we want [redacted] continue to engage in the world, gestures like having oil rich countries partially pay us back doesn't seem crazy to me.

Do we prefer cuts to Head Start? Or WIC? Or Medicaid? Because we live [redacted] deficit politics, and that's what is happening and will be happening even more.

@ZaidJilani I contacted Bruce to clarify this. Glad to be able to make this clear for folks.

From: Bruce Reed
Date: August 22, 2016 at 9:37:49 PM EDT
To: Neera Tanden

Neera didn't start at the White House until after welfare reform was passed and she didn't work on it when she got there.

toward a $15 minimum wage, but added, "we affirm and support different ways of getting there in different states."

This comment appears to reflect the position of Clinton, who has said different states should establish unique minimum wages, some of which may be less than $15, depending on the standard of living, while Sanders has called for a $15 federal minimum wage that can be increased in more expensive states.

Ellison countered arguing that, if his proposed amendment truly were redundant, and didn't help clarify the party's exact position on the wage, "then there's really no reason to oppose it."

The five members of the committee appointed by Sanders — Ellison, Parker, James Zogby, Bill McKibben and Cornel West — joined Rep. Barbara Lee in voting in support of the amendment.

The six members of the committee appointed by Clinton — Center for American Progress President Neera [redacted], Illinois Rep. Luis Gutiérrez, former EPA administrator Carol Browner, former Under Secretary of State Wendy Sherman, Ohio @neeratanden you sure have got a lot of nerve. Just hush already.

L.Rodrigues · LRodrigues101 · 4 Nov 2016
@neeratanden @Amielvey1 @brianefallon Also, when you send crazy emails as if they can't be hacked! Be careful Neera. Sheesh...

1) McCarthyism is a general term. It's not specific to anti-communism.
2) It's not those asking for evidence who seem confused about Russia.

It's acceptable to like 40% of the US but enough with the identity politics Neera. We have bigger problems and you're becoming part of them

shlewis @Telecordial · 8 oras
Hardly 40%. It was a simple question and you couldn't simply say no. Look in your mirror and ask who is becoming part of the bigger probs

Stick2Sports @AltNickRad · 8 oras
Sorry...30 percent (Trump voters). The problem is our party has no direction besides identity BS

This is over 20 years ago. We need converts. I welcome them. And I'm glad to have Warren fighting for us.

Tommy Christopher @tommyxtopher
Know what "troubles" me? @SenWarren was a Republican until '96, through Nixon, Reagan. Coincidentally flipped the year of welfare reform. Hm

History will definitely record that. But losers don't have power to assault democracy. It's the winners that do.

Sad to see @SenJohnMcCain keep reducing standards since his service to our country. No credibility with his continual capitulation to Trump.

They're trying to change history—don't let them. In the chaotic atmosphere of 2020, the Wayback Machine is a crucial resource in the fight against disinformation, and now more than ever we need your help. Right now we're preserving history as it unfolds, keeping track of who's saying what and when—all without charging for access, selling user data, or running ads. Instead, we rely on the generosity of individuals to help us keep the record straight.

Right now, the Internet Archive (which runs this project) has a 2-to-1 Matching Gift Campaign, tripling the impact of every donation. If you find our public record useful, please chip in.

Jamie Cohen-Cole @jcohencole · 23 Jan 2016
@neeratanden are you saying that Nader's 2000 candidacy means Dem voters should have picked Bradley or Wellstone that year?

Neera Tanden @neeratanden · 23 Jan 2016
@jcohencole Nader ran from the left. Do you think Wellstone would have beat Bush?

Jamie Cohen-Cole @jcohencole · 23 Jan 2016
@neeratanden I don't know. I'll bet Bradley would have. But question was:why will centrist Dems ensure ■ Trump presidency?

Jamie Cohen-Cole @jcohencole · 23 Jan 2016
@neeratanden there has been no end of wailing from Dem power brokers about unfaithful Nader voters. Will this be same re Bloomberg voters?

Replying to @neeratanden

she became a Trump supporter and is a huge attention seeker & liar and is hated amongst the Bernie Twitter folk just so you know.

红色娘子军 @detachment_red · Apr 29

If you're about to use her to smear Bernie Sanders supporters, you're just solidifying your reputation as a liar.

Eric J @EricJafMN · Apr 29

In fairness, Tanden put "Bernie supporter" in quotes.

Regina W @regwag2003 · Apr 29

Yes - bc Cassandra never really was, but pretended to be in order to sow division.

That's how they've treated HRC for decades. Women of color understood if they went after a white woman like that, we should all be scared.

I'm suspicious of this whole scene. Seems like a set-up, the whole thing, coordinated with Turkey, Russia and Syria.

Replying to @neeratanden
@neeratanden Well, he's so far failed at foreign policy, econ policy, & TV prognostication. So medicine seems like PERFECT next career move.

Have Mueller investigate that too, BUT, ferocious tweets from journalists are not a threat to POTUS right? Including threats from Hollywood?

We need to tie this bill to them. We need to relentlessly put the blame on the GOP for every bit of suffering this thing causes.

If Trump fires Mueller, we are going to have to have massive street demonstrations. Who is with me in taking to the streets?

The battle must be won in the institutions. Not against street, but focus must be planned and strategic. Good luck!

Just wondering: Doesn't DNC money then go to state parties which in turn helps candidates? Let's be honest 7 million is terrible.

If you can make it to DC: PACK THE SENATE GALLERIES. Mon ~5:30p (after die-in) & Tue starting 10:30am. See history & make it feel historic

U.S. Senate Gallery Pass Information
Week of July 24th-25th

To watch the Senate floor, please pick up gallery passes from Leader Schumer's office in Hart 322 (directions below) before heading to the Capitol.
Gallery passes may be picked up 9AM-5PM on Monday and 9AM-the vote on Tuesday

Passes are good until the end of 2019 but can only be used once. If you plan on going to the Senate Gallery more than once this week, please pick up multiple passes.
You will not be able to bring food, water, or any other prohibited items into the Capitol building. Please see the full list here (https://www.visitthecapitol.gov/plan-visit/prohibited-items). Additionally, please note that cameras and strollers will not be allowed into the gallery.

Directions:

Senator Schumer's office is located in room 322 Hart Senate Office Building. The visitors' entrance is located on Constitution Avenue between First and Second Street. Once you have entered the building head to the third floor, room 322. (202-224-6542)

Visitors with Gallery Passes may enter the Capitol Building through the CVC entrance which is on First Street. (From Hart, walk straight down First Street toward the Capitol, away from Union Station). At the corner of First & East Capitol Street, follow the signs for the Capitol Visitor's Center.

You will need a gallery pass to gain entrance to the Capitol Building.

Before 11PM: If the Senate is in session, visitors with gallery passes should enter the Capitol Building through the CVC and go through security. Capitol Police, and Doorkeepers will direct you to elevators that take you to the third floor and the Senate Gallery.

After 11PM: If the Senate is still in session, visitors with gallery passes should enter the Capitol Building thru the North Entrance on the Senate side of Constitution Avenue. You will need to enter the grey guard shed and go through security before entering the Capitol. Once you have entered, Capitol Police and Doorkeepers will assist you to the third floor Senate Gallery.

This was somewhat predictable. If GOP was truly serious about more than repeal, they'd have been working to fix ACA into their own plan.

They're trying to change history—don't let them. In the chaotic atmosphere of 2020, the Wayback Machine is a crucial resource in the fight against disinformation, and now more than ever we need your help. Right now we're preserving history as it unfolds, keeping track of who's saying what and when—all without charging for access, selling user data, or running ads. Instead, we rely on the generosity of individuals to help us keep the record straight.

Right now, the Internet Archive (which runs this project) has a 2-to-1 Matching Gift Campaign, tripling the impact of every donation. If you find our public record useful, please chip in.
